WITH HIGH HONORS

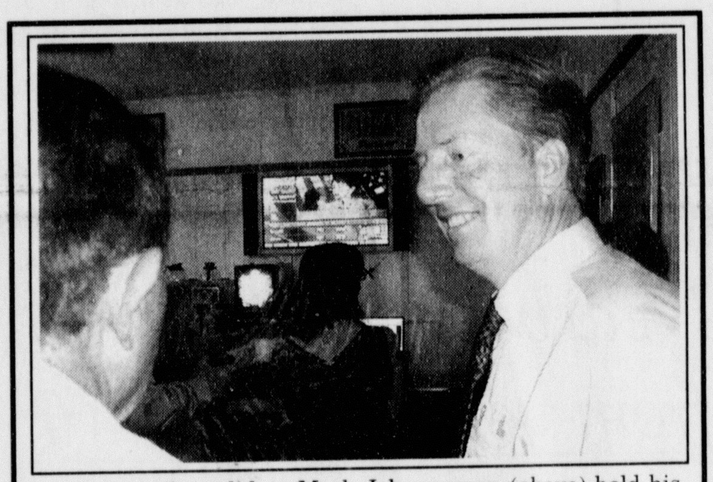

Several thousand people attended a funeral on Friday at West Sacramento's Raley Field for slain Sacramento County Sheriff's Deputy Jeffrey Mitchell. The funeral included a celebration of Mitchell's life within the ceremony, as well as a helicopter flyover above the baseball stadium and fireboats spouting water on the Sacramento River.

A motorcade consisting of hundreds of patrol cars, motorcycles and mounted units from many jurisdictions then proceeded from Raley Field in West Sacramento across the Tower Bridge to Mitchell's final resting place in Sacramento.

The deputy was shot after he conducted a night-time traffic stop near Sloughouse in rural Sacramento County Oct. 27. His killer has not been found.

City council candidate Mark Johannessen (above) held his election night party at Puerto Azul on West Capitol Avenue. The News-Ledger joined him briefly, as early election results showed him in good shape -- in the number-two spot very early in the vote count. The race would have two winners.

"I'm doing well, but I don't want to be overly optimistic," he said. "I've got a lot of things I want to do, such as revitalizing Bryte and Broderick, and I won't be able to do them if I'm not on the city council. There's only so much you can do as a private citizen."

Halloween robbery

Four robbers used Halloween costumes on Halloween, Oct. 31, to help disguise themselves when they robbed a West Sacramento check cashing facility at gunpoint.

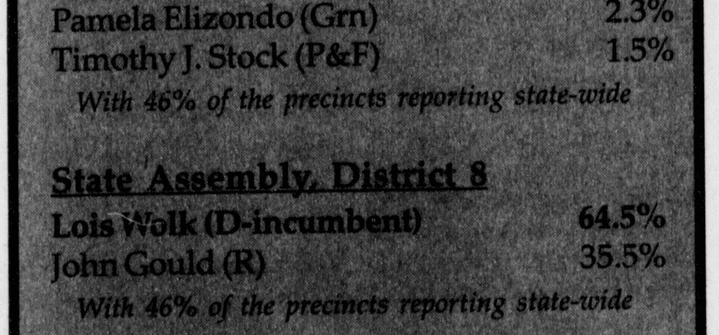

West Sacramento Police Lieutenant David Farmer reports that officers responded to West Sacramento Check Cashing, 624 Jefferson Boulevard, at about 8:50 a.m. after being told there was a robbery in progress. The robbers were gone when police arrived, and a clerk reported they had run west towards an apartment complex. Police established a perimeter but could not find the four suspects.

The clerk said she was taking a smoke break outside the business when a man with a hooded sweatshirt covering his face approached her, brandishing a handgun, and forced her into the store, where he pushed her down and kicked her several times. Three more suspects – all in dark clothing and Halloween masks – also entered. The robbers entered the secured room with the business's safe, which was open, took an undisclosed amount of cash, and ran.

Police said the only descriptions of the subjects were that three were black males and one was a white male, all in their late teens to early twenties.

Anyone with information is asked to call Detective Hensley at 617-4955, or Sergeant Tingley, 617-4956.

Political tagging?

"I noticed and reported the vandalism (to police) at 8:00 this morning," said West Sacramento resident and city council candidate Jim Cahill on Tuesday, after finding a message spray-painted on his fence.

Cahill declined to speculate as to who did it during the night.

The message may allude to someone's perception of hostility by candidate Cahill towards the city's mayor, who is gay.

Streetcar momentum rolls on

By Steve Marschke
News-Ledger Editor

Sacramento Supervisor Roger Dickinson and City Councilman Steve Cohn joined West Sacramento Mayor Christopher Cabaldon on Thursday to celebrate and promote the idea of a new streetcar service connecting the two cities across the river.

Local governments on both sides of the Sacramento River are studying the idea of bringing back streetcars, which last served the area in the 1940s. The service could include West Sacramento's waterfront and West Capitol Avenue areas – and proponents believe it could be a magnet for development.

"We know that they have the potential to be an economic attraction simply by being a tourist attraction," said Dickinson, at a press conference at West Sacramento's city hall. "They can also be an economic catalyst and a form of transportation. If we want people to look at different forms of transportation, we have to give them other forms to look at – we can't just say, 'get out of your cars.' "

"It's easy to imagine catching a streetcar in West Sacramento to go to dinner in Sacramento," Dickinson continued. "It's also easy to imagine coming in on the train from Auburn, catching the intermodal connection in Sacramento and taking a streetcar to a job in West Sacramento."

He added that the proposal – still in early study – has made it "beyond the core of true believers."

Sacramento councilman Steve Cohn said the streetcar service could improve the quality of life.

"Our goal in the city of Sacramento is to be the most livable city in America," he commented. "All of the cities around the region make up what someone outside the area would think of simply as the 'region' of Sacramento. We're talking about an area including over two million people. What we want to have is the kind of city where people can go wherever they want to go without getting into a car. Right now, you don't have that choice."

"The streets are becoming so clogged," added Cohn, that "we just can't have everyone going around in a car to get everywhere. The parking accommodations alone would take up too much of our downtown area."

Roger Dickinson, Steve Cohn and Christopher Cabaldon

All three officials said that streetcar service would attract sought-after economic development near the lines.

"We know that, looking at Portland and Tampa and other places throughout the country that streetcars spur development," said Christopher Cabaldon, West Sacramento's mayor. "They create a sense of character and soul that our waterfront area needs."

The press conference capped a "charette" planning process in which planners and citizens tossed around ideas for the scope of the proposed streetcar service. Cost and other details remain to be seen.

"It can be done at a reasonable cost and in what we consider a very reasonable time frame," predicted Dickinson.

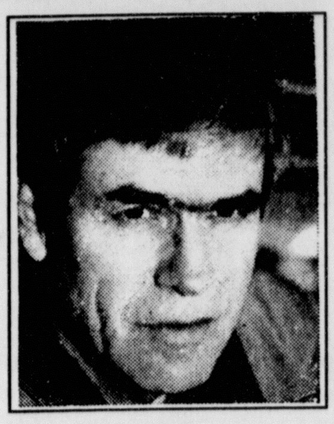

The politicians managed a little political humor, at this press conference just five days before yesterday's ballot.

Dickinson, a proponent of the measure to use Sacramento tax money to help build a new downtown arena, joked that "I'm looking for an alignment to go from Raley Field to the new arena."

Cabaldon, who is in favor of replacing PG&E's electrical service with SMUD's in West Sacramento, added, "We're looking to run the streetcar with SMUD power on both sides of the river."

Tony & Millie Frates celebrate 65 years together

My Back Pages

By Daryl Fisher

Quite a few years back I wrote a column about longtime West Sacramento resident Tony Frates and his harrowing escape from the crowded Belgium transport ship Leopoldville, which was torpedoed and sunk by a German U-boat on Christmas Eve, 1944, off the coast of France. On board were 2235 jam-packed Allied reinforcement troops headed for the Battle of the Bulge, and more than 800 American soldiers died in the attack from injuries, drowning and hypothermia.

In all the chaos of that long ago day, Tony somehow managed to find a rope and swing himself from the Leopoldville to a British rescue ship without falling into the cold and choppy sea, where he would have surely been crushed to death between the two huge ships which kept striking against one another. It was a truly remarkable story and has always been one of my favorite columns.

In interviewing Tony for that story, I learned that he and his wife, Millie, have lived in the same West Sacramento house for more than 50 years, and that Tony's father, John Frates, headed one of the pioneer Portuguese families in this area and operated a general store and gas station in Bryte during the 1920's.

Anyway, I really enjoyed getting to meet Tony and Millie, who are perfect examples of the hard-working, family-orientated couples who made West Sacramento their home after World War II and helped make it into such a wonderful place to live. And now, in a letter I just received from Bob Frates, Tony and Millie's son, I have learned that Tony and Millie will be celebrating their 65th wedding anniversary in a few weeks on November 22nd.

In Bob's really nice letter to me, he requested that I please mention his parent's wedding anniversary in my column, but since his words were much more eloquent than any I could possibly pen on the subject, here is most of what Bob had to say:

"Mom and Dad have had a long and eventful life together, " wrote Bob. "For their first real date, in June of 1941, they went to the Tower Theater in Sacramento. Dad was so tired from a long day's work that he slept right through the double-feature, but despite that slow beginning, romance soon blossomed.

"Two weeks after their wedding, Mom and Dad went up to Lake Tahoe for the weekend and to get a Christmas tree, and on their way back they heard on the radio that Pearl Harbor had been attacked by the Japanese.

"Dad was drafted into the Army in early 1942 and was posted in bases in Colorado, Florida, Arkansas and Alabama, with Mom following him around the country, living in houses and apartments near Dad's bases. Finally, in 1944, Dad was shipped over to England and then to Europe. Mom came back to Bryte and took a job with the Corps of Engineers in Sacramento. Every morning on the way to work she would go to Mass and pray for Dad's safe return.

"After the war, in 1948, Mom and Dad bought a brand-new house on Maryland Avenue in West Sacramento for the whopping price of $11,000. They also became parishioners of the newly-built Our Lady of Grace Church and remain members to this day.

"That same year, Mom gave birth to their first daughter, Jane, who was a bright and happy girl and the light of my parents' lives. In 1954, shortly after starting Kindergarten at Westmore Oaks Elementary School, Janey fell ill with Meningitis and was gone within a week. My parents were devastated, but resolved again to start a family. I was born in late 1955, and my younger sister, Sue, soon followed. Sue and I went through all the local schools and then on to college. Sue now lives in Stockton with her husband, Jeff (married 29 years), and their daughter, Courtney. Her older daughter, Bridget, recently moved to Sacramento. I live in Hayward with my wife, Leslie (married 25 years), while our son, Leland, attends college in Stockton.

"Dad retired from his job with the State Printing Office in 1979, after 40 years of service. During that time he helped to print millions of school textbooks. He has spent his retirement years playing golf and he and Mom take occasional bus trips to Reno or the Indian casinos. They also enjoy spending time with their kids and grandkids, and with the many friends they've made over the years in West Sacramento.

"Nowadays, Dad's main complaint is that he can't play golf as often as he'd like because most of his golfing buddies have passed away. And Mom's main complaint is that Dad doesn't get out of the house and play golf often enough. Thankfully, they are both still in good health and the whole family is really looking forward to their 65th wedding anniversary."

Tony & Millie Frates

So Happy 65th Wedding Anniversary, Tony and Millie! You two have sure had a life well-lived, and West Sacramento is a better place because you decided to call it home!

SPORTS INSIDER

By Richard Novoa

By Richard Novoa

The Sacramento Kings were the last NBA team this season to have their home opener last Monday night and they didn't disappoint their loyal funs with a 93-81 over the Minnesota Timberwolves. The Kings, who are now 16-6 in their home openers since moving the franchise from Kansas City in 1984, thrilled another Arco Arena sellout crowd of 17,317.

The 2006/07 Kings introduced their new head coach Eric Musselman and after a moment of silence for the late Red Auerbach the Kings went to work by displaying a well balanced attack that featured six players in double figures and defense that could make the Kings the team to beat in the Western Conference.

This years motto is "Passion 4 Purple" and with the new stadium issue going to the polls on Tuesday - could this be the last year for fans to display their passion for their beloved Kings? Will the Maloofs move the team to Anaheim or Las Vegas if the stadium measure fails to produce the new downtown arena? Stay tuned for more rumors and gossip in the coming weeks.

Kings Korner

The Kings (2-2) lost the season opener in Minnesota on Wednesday but bounced back on Friday night in Chicago to steal a game from the Bulls with a last second shot by Kevin Martin. The Kings lost their second game on their short road trip in Milwaukee and returned home 1-2 with the hope of resting their walking wounded for their first home stand of the season.

The Kings big loss will be in the month that it will take to heal the partial tear of the plantar fascia in center Brad Miller's foot. Also, Mike Bibby is playing with a very sore right wrist and it showed on Friday in Chicago with his career high 11 turnovers. On the positive side of Bibby's game he passed Mitch Richmond as the Sacramento-era assist leader (2,129) and he needs only eight more points to reach the 10,000 milestone.

The Kings will now rotation forwards Shareef Abdur-Rahim, Maurice Taylor and Kenny Thomas at the center position but they do have a true center in Vitaly Potapenko who hasn't played much this season and is rumored to be out of playing shape.

The Kings will host Detroit on Wednesday night (7 p.m.-ESPN) and then enjoy a few days off before hosting the Toronto Raptors (6 p.m.-CSN) on Sunday.

NFL Week 10

The Raiders (2-6) were trying to win three games in row for the first time since 2002 but instead were embarrassed and shut out again on Monday night football for the second time this year!

The Silver and Black attack has been out scored 43-0 in their two Monday night appearances this season and have failed to score a touchdown in a game for the fifth time this season.

The Raiders offensive line let their young quarterback get sacked 9 times on Monday night against Seattle to add to their league-leading total of 44 sacks. Walters was sacked once every 4.9 times he faded back to pass in their 16-0 shutout loss to the Seahawks. Ouch!

The Raiders need a new offensive coordinator to correct their scoring deficiency but their defense side played well again but failed to score any points in this game. The Raiders will have to change quarterbacks against the Broncos if they want any chance of beating Denver at home next Sunday (1 p.m.).

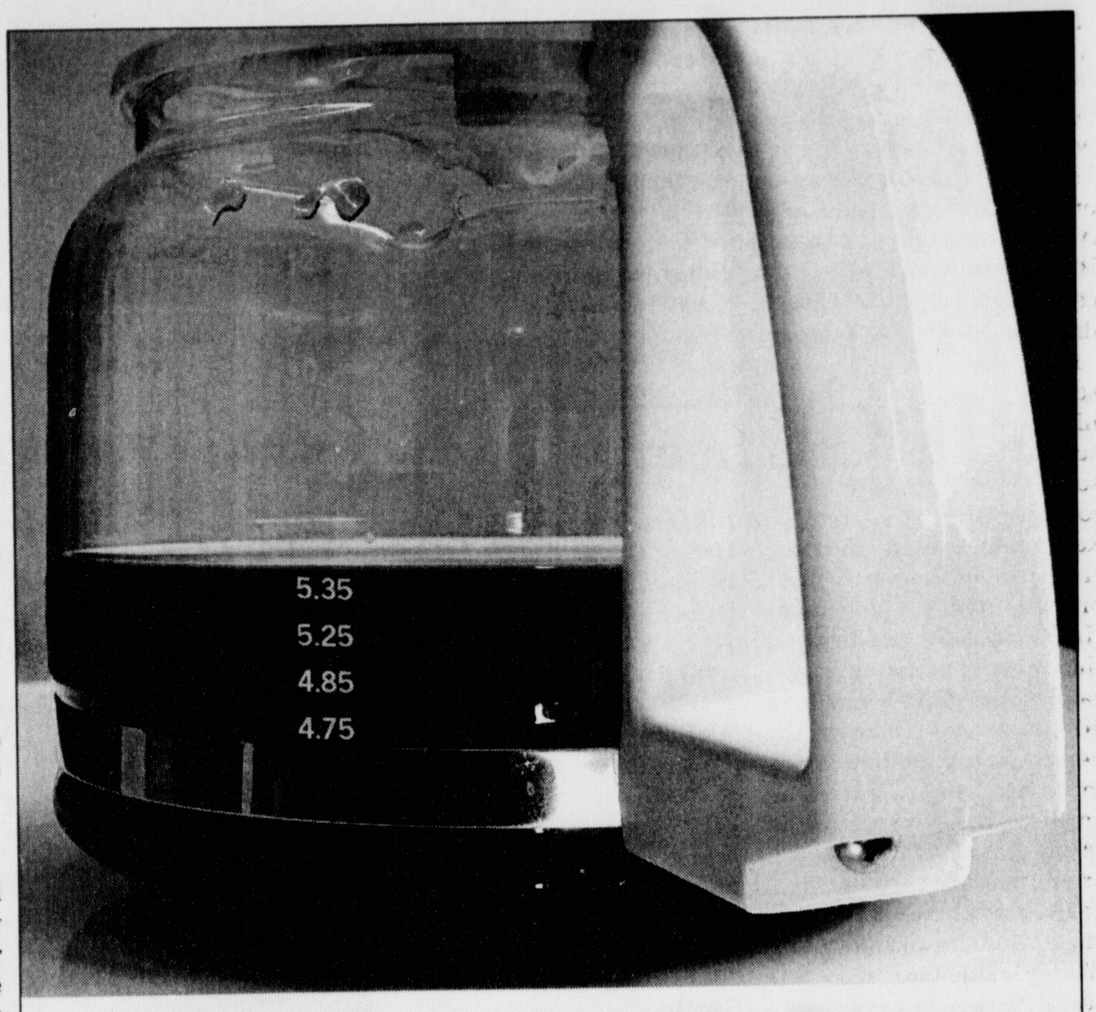

The 49ers (3-6) didn't score a touchdown either in their win but their defense finally played up to it's potential and held Minnesota to only 3 points to out kick the Vikings 9-3. After giving up 40-plus points in two consecutive games the Niners defense forced two fumbles, 3 sacks, and one interception so the future looks bright as they prepare for their visit to Detroit to play the Lions (2-6) next Sunday (10 a.m.-FOX).

Aztecs Picks

Aztec (14-19-1) finished week 9 with a loss by the lowly Raiders, who failing to cover the 10 points against the Seahawks on Monday but ended up 2-2 but his "College Lick of the Week" with Texas (-17) Longhorns improved his overall college lick of the week to 6-2 this season.

This week the Dawg's "College Lick of the Week" is USC (-7 ½) over the Ducks and in the NFL Aztec is going with his beloved 49ers (+6) this week in Detroit and the Falcons (-7 ½) will soar over the Browns and in the Monday night game the Panthers (-9) will bury the bones of the Buccaneers.

Enjoy your day – see ya next week!

Good crowd for 'Women of West Sac' museum exhibition

West Sacramento's JOHN OHLSON with former Sacramento mayor Anne Rudin at the opening of a new women's exhibit at the West Sacramento museum

By Louisa Vessell
West Sacramento Historical Society

On Sunday, over 125 people attended the reception and opening of "Celebrating the Women of West Sacramento" exhibition at the West Sacramento Historical Society Museum and Visitors Center.

Cindy Tuttle, the former first woman mayor of West Sacramento, was the keynote speaker and spoke on "The Role of Women in the Community." Jana Marie Salocks, Yolo County Field Representative for Assembly member Lois Wolk's office, presented a commemorative document recognizing Tuttle.

Many of the 39 women honored in the museum exhibition were in attendance at the event. Sacramento's ex-Mayor Anne Rudin attended the event and said "I just had to be here for this celebration." Claude Needham, whose mother, Thelma Needham, is profiled in the exhibition, flew in from Las Vegas to attend the reception.

The exhibition committee consisted of Thom Lewis, Jeri Hughes Wingfield and Lana Paulhamus with Joan Liffring and Louisa R. Vessell helping in various ways. Sharon Freitas created a binder with in depth biographies of all the women profiled. Eventually, the historical society will make a book from this binder's contents and sell it at the museum. Jill Egbert, Community and government Relations person for PG & E also spoke at the event. The exhibition was underwritten by PG & E, the Cameron Foundation and Soroptimists International of West Sacramento who received their funding from long-time resident, Erleen Culver's 90th birthday party which was held at the museum this past July. The show will continue through April 29.

The museum is located at 324 Third Street in the Broderick district of West Sacramento. Hours of operation for the museum are Thursday - Friday, 10 am - 4 pm and Saturday - Sunday, Noon - 4 pm. For further information call the museum at 916-374-1849.

Strange BUT TRUE

By Samantha Weaver

• The first Miss America pageant was held in Atlantic City, N.J., in 1921, and during the first decade of the competition, the bust of the average contestant measured 32 inches. Since then, though, times — and standards of beauty — have changed; perhaps unsurprisingly, the average bust size of contestants today is 36 inches.

• Elmore Leonard, famed author of "Get Shorty" and many other novels, said about his writing, "I leave out the parts that people skip."

• Automaker Henry Ford grew marijuana — he wanted to figure out a way to make plastic out of the plant.

• If you're going to be tying the knot soon, you might be interested in this factoid: Those who study such things (and who are they, anyway?) say that 12 percent of grooms go to a tanning bed so they'll have some color before they take that trip down the aisle.

• "In God We Trust" didn't appear on all U.S. currency until 1954.

• I recently ran across a report claiming that in ancient Greece, a man could propose to a woman by throwing an apple to her. If she wanted to marry the man doing the fruit tossing, she'd catch the apple; if not, she'd let it drop to the ground. I wonder, though, what happened to those unfortunate women with poor hand-eye coordination: Did they simply become old maids, never marrying simply because they couldn't catch?

The Saccramento River registered 10 feet 1 inch U. S. gauge at the S. P. bridge yesterday. This is a sign that the warm weather is melting the snow on the mountain very fast, and may result badly later on in the season.

Mrs. E. Weske was taken to a sanitarium in Oakland last Tuesday. Of late she has been suffering severely and was continuously confined to her home.

An exodus of young men in Washington will take place on or about May 20th, when several of the young men around town expect to go to Lake Tahoe for their summer vacation. Among those metnioned are Ben Moss, Judy Noyes, Gerald Lewis, Pat Glenn, Tony Borzone, E. Van Olinda, J. Borzone, Moochie Methena and some others. It is customary for these men to spend the summer at the lake, but there is a suspicion that something outside of recreation draws them to the mountains.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Russell left today for Lake Tahoe to spend the remainder of the summer in charge of the Fish and Game Commission camp ground at the lake.

Mrs. C. Simmons left yesterday for Pittsburg, Penn., where she expects to spend several months visiting her old home and many relatives.

Washington orchestra will hold a hard times party in the Town Hall on Saturday evening. Music will be furnished by the orchestra.

J. Butschli is sporting a new car and is very careful for the time being for fear he might transgress on the speed rules. From reports at hand the car is a modern Cadilac, which he is using to transport great loads of fish from his boat to the Pankost fishery.

The oil barge Portland is on the ways of the Sacramento Transportation Co., undergoing repairs. It is practically being rebuilt, at considerable cost to the corporation.

If it is any consolation to the Democrats of Yolo County it is well to know there were more Democratic votes cast in the North Washington precinct than in any other precinct in the county, and that wasn't a great number, only 26.

Fishing during the past week has been fairly good, bass and shad being plentiful and a fair supply of salmon with prices steady and fishermen doing very well. The salmon season closes on June 5th.

Last Sunday C. A. Kiff and family, with the Manchester family, spent the day at Salmon Falls.

Mrs. Minnie Enwright, who was taken suddenly ill yesterday, is improving.

Mrs. Josephine Mento of San Leandro is visiting at the home of her aunt, Mrs. William Wood.

Mrs. Jack Ramsey of San Francisco, with her two children, is a guest at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Dupzyk.

JOHNSON CARRIED WASHINGTON BY BIG MAJORITY

At the election last Tuesday in Washington and Riverbank the vote recorded showed that Hiram Johnson is still a favorite over Herbert Hoover.

IMPROVEMENTS MADE AT BEAN WAREHOUSE

Anticipating a large business during the coming summer and fall, there has been installed by the Sacramento Northern Railway at the Sacramento Valley Dock and Warehouse additional features in the way of wharves and loading and unloading facilities.

Just outside the bean warehouse, and between it and the river, a platform has been built measuring 50x350 feet. At right angles with this and projecting over the river to deep water another platform has been built, measuring 60x150 feet.

Both these platforms make the work of loading and unloading very much lighter, and is saving considerable in help.

A few days ago there were unloaded from cars on barges in less than twelve hours, 30,000 sacks of rice for Rosenburg & Sons of San Francisco. This rice came from Butte County and was transferred here to save hauling in freight cars.

Facilities have been installed also at the warehouse for the handling of seed peas, of which great quantities are expected early next month from the West Sacramento district, the Natoma district and the Holland Land Co.

These seed peas will be cleaned and fumigated at the plant in a new building that has been already constructed.

This is practically a new industry here brought about through the great demand for the commodity, which was formerly furnished by European countries.

At this writing there are stored in the warehouse about 170,000 sacks of beans of various types and qualities.

Prices being quoted at the present time show an inclination of an upward turn, which may result eventually in bringing to the farmers a fair price for their stored beans.

Pinks are quoted at $6.00 per hundred pounds, Whites are quottd at $5.75, Blackeyes $5.85 and Bayou beans $6.00 per hundred pounds.

George Patterson was a visitor last Wednesday in Woodland on business.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Washington Community Church met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. M. Cameron.

Miss Harriet Lee, County Superintendent of Schools, was a visitor last Tuesday in Washington, where she conducted the final examinations for the pupils of the eighth grade.

Mr. and Mrs. William Woods, Jr., spent a few days at Dillon's Beach.

Miss Margaret Steen of Berkeley has been a guest at the home of Miss Doris Norton.

Under Sheriff Robert Wood and wife were week-end visitors at the home of his mother, Mrs. Martin McDonough.

The Rod and Gun Club gave a picnic at Mormon Island last Sunday. The following Washington people were there: P. O. Van Deren and family, Mr. and Mrs. Barkle, Mr. and Mrs. Bradford, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Peek, J. Allerton and daughter, Johnnie Peek and Russell Crase, the musicians.

The young son of William Norton is ill at his home.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon of Napa have returned to their home after a week-end visit with O. P. Cook and family. Mrs. Chambers accompanied them on their return trip.

A large crowd of interested fans attended two of the most interesting games of the year here last Sunday between Washington and Riverbank, bot hof which were won by the local boys. Williams, Washington's brilliant shortstop, sewed up the first game by knocking a home run with three men on the bags, while the second game was a hard battle with little advantage on either side. The score for the first game was 25 to 11 and for the second game 2 to 1. Following is the line-up of both teams:

Washington — J. DeRiso, 1st b.; Berdognent, 2b.; Shaw, 3b.; Russell, rf.; West, cf.; S. Peek, lf.; Williams, ss.; C. Enright, c.; Curry, p.

Riverbank — Flint, 1b.; Victor, 2b.; Mike, 3b.; Domingo, rf.; Caesar cf.; L. Peek, lg.; Newton, ss.; V. DeRiso, c.; Hudner, p. A. Dassonville acted as umpire and W. Morton as scorer.

Mrs. Clara Davis of San Franciscso is visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. H. H. Lee, in Riverbank. She expects to remain another week.

IMPROVEMENT CLUB TO ENTER PROTEST AGAINST INSTALLATION OF WATER METERS

THE YOLO COUNTY MOTOR COP WILL BE ASKED TO LIMIT AUTO DRIVERS' SPEED WITHIN POPULATED DISTRICTS

The Secretary of the Washington Improvement Club at its meeting last Tuesday night was instructed to request the motor cop of the county to enforce the speed laws of the State in the vicinity of Washington and along the highway west of town.

It seems that of late the motor cop has been devoting all his time to the arrest of violators in the vicinity of Davis, giving very little time to the enforcement of the law in the vicinity of Washington, and hence abuses have been brought about.

The club also decided to request Supervisor Leinberger to place signs in prominent places advising drivers of the speed limit, so that all would be advised.

Lately there has been danger to children and trucks from the reckless drivers using the highway west of the subway under the Sacramento Northern embankment.

The Improvement Club has received notice from the Railroad Commission that advice would be sent to it when the question was brought up on the request of the Washington Water and Light Co., concerning the installation of water meters for the consumers of the town.

The club recognizes that the installation of these meters means an added tax for water, and does not desire to see a start made, even though it feels that the Water Co. is being imposed on by some consumers, who take more than their share, and in addition steal considerable during nighttime. The request to install meters is considered a bad start, for there is no assurance that the present corporation may not sell out, giving strangers in the town an advantage over the people.

When the club is advised of the date of the hearing, delegates will be sent to represent the Improvement Club and the taxpayers, in an effort to prevent the installation of meters.

YOUNG WILLIAMS' METTLE WILL BE TESTED TONIGHT

At the L-street arena tonight "Mick" Williams of Washington will measure his skill with Johnny Lotsy under the auspices of the Victory Athletic Club.

"Judy" Noyes, Williams' trainer, is authority for the statement that Williams will make short work of Johnny and come home with the bacon.

Williams has been training faithfully and has some good records behind him.

All the local fans are going to see the fun.

BARRY BOUGHT JENKINS' PROPERTY ON 4TH STREET

Yesterday the deal was completed whereby Seth Barry became the owner of the Jenkins property on Fourth street between Anne and Harriett streets.

The lot is 40x160 feet and a fairly good house stands on it.

The price paid by Barry is considered fair knowing that property values are advancing in this locality.

POPULAR LOCAL GIRL WED IN SACRAMENTO

Rev. A. W. Baker was the officiating clergyman at a wedding ceremony on April 29, the contracting parties being Miss Cora Russell of Washington and William J. White of Portland, Oregon. The wedding took place in the parlors of the Y. W. C. A. During the ceremony Miss Britomarte Cox, Miss Marguerite Young and Miss Geraldine Rainey sang "O Promise me."

The bride is a daughter of Lee Russell and is a prominent worker in the Washington community church. Mr. and Mrs. White will make their home in Sacramento.

Among the guests were: Mrs. Cora White, Mrs. M. F. Henry, Mrs. Alice Dodge, Mr. and Mrs. William L. Pearte; the Misses May Du Four, Sallie Russell, Bessie Ellison, Marguerite Gosse, Eva Simmons, Olive Johnson, Juanita Henry; and Alfred Blake, T. Chambers and J. H. Dorland.

A newspaper head reads, "Early drop in clothing."

That's mostly the way it is today. Formerly people went to bed before midnight.

SHORTHORN AUCTION AT CALEDONIAN FARM MAY 27TH

Seventy-eight thoroughbred cows will be auctioned on May 27th at the Caledonian Farm, West Sacramento.

The owner, Edward Cebrian, has been raising splendid stock on this ranch of nearly 600 acres and this will be the first sale of any part of the herd.

It is probable that Cebrian will hold an annual sale at his farm. The coming event will be managed by C. L. Hughes of Sacramento, and Ben A. Rhoades of Los Angeles will be the auctioneer.

The cows to be offered are a remarkably uniform lot, most of them with calves at foot or soon to calve. There will be included a dozen animals of straight Scotch breeding and several of Scotch top. The calves are by the herd bulls, Imported Caledonian, Gainsford's Matchless, grand champion at the California 'Interna-

News-Ledger Editorial

The winner

The "winner" in the contest to put out the nastiest political ad in West Sacramento, at least at press time, appears to be the city's mayor, Christopher Cabaldon. That's a bit surprising, considering he is the leader in what should be the easiest race on the city's local ballot this week.

Cabaldon sent out a mailer over the weekend that qualified as a classic "last-minute hit piece." He showed pictures of his opponent in the mayor's race, Mary Lasell, along with photos of two city council challengers he does not support: Mark Johannessen and Jim Cahill. Those three photos were stamped with the word "PAID." In the mailer, Cabaldon argues that they are a "special interest slate" supported by special interests who are "trying to buy our city. . . as a package deal."

Cabaldon's text attacks Cahill and Lasell at length on a number of issues.

The mailer promotes Cabaldon for another term as mayor, and endorses two other council candidates, Wes Beers and Chris Ledesma – both of whom, one hopes, are a little embarrassed by this style of support.

Cahill's own mailers during the political season have been a bit negative, although much less so than Cabaldon's piece. As for Mark Johannessen and Mary Lasell, what did they do to deserve this kind of mudslinging?

For political reasons, Cabaldon evidently thought the attack was necessary. But even if it was "necessary," an honorable person draws the line somewhere. The mayor should have drawn the line on the other side of this mailer.

Letters to the Editor

Open letter to Mayor Cabaldon

Christopher, I've always held some respect for you, regardless of whether or not we always agreed on issues. You have done some good things for the City of West Sacramento, including being a fairly good spokesperson promoting our efforts.

I've seen you go from being a positive, driven and dedicated proponent of West Sacramento, to being more focused on regional issues that are more suited to your political desires. That's fine, that's how politics work. Ambition and drive propel ideas forward and you are quite adept in this arena.

I've personally grown frustrated with you as I see you distancing yourself from West Sacramento while you eye your future ambitions. That was never personal, it was simply my deep desire to see West Sacramento hold true to the wishes of the community and stay committed to why this community incorporated, for local control. With that perceived distancing, again it was never personal.

That attack piece you sent out Saturday was personal. That went into the gutter far deeper than I expected even from you.

You came out during a city even and introduced your personal lifestyle to the public. You did this, Christopher, no one else did. You accused the city residents of being bigots when everyone else, but apparently you, knew of your lifestyle and didn't care. Did that ever stop your political success? Did it ever come up in a campaign? No, it didn't.

You have used this fine community for self-promotion at the expense of good people, insulting them along the way with your unfair accusations. Then to accuse an opponent of using hate and discrimination during his campaign when his few pieces are based on issues was just enough.

How can you think that was justified? You have brought a level of politics to this city that I hoped would never come. The only person out there promoting the discrimination card is you.

Personally, although you would care little about a single person's opinion in this town, you have crossed a line that has moved you from someone I respected and sometimes disagreed with, to someone I now consider reprehensible. I can assure you, it's not due to your lifestyle. It's directly related to your actions.

Good time for Puerto Ricans

The month of November, 2006 has become an exciting time for all Puerto Ricans living in the United States and California. First, the Latin Grammy became a huge positive showcase for top Puerto Rican stars in New York City. Second, Sacramento became the spotlight for a Puerto Rican Latina serving in the state legislature of California. Third, Puerto Rico will celebrate its discovery in 1493 by Spain on November 19th of this year.

Thanks to our governor for recognizing the Puerto Ricans in 2006. It takes courage to acknowledge that we do exist in California. Let this be the start for a good future and relationship of goodwill.

More V.I.P.'s might help

Quite a dramatic turnout for slain Deputy Jeffery Mitchell on November 3rd at Raley Field. Several thousand officers and who knows how many public folks were sending strong messages, including their sympathies. During those nighttime patrols, Sacramento County Sheriff John McGinness has indicated a need for two officers per car at night, but aren't there budgetary constraints?

If money is too tight, should consideration be given to expanding (what we have/had in West Sac) the Volunteers in Policing program? V.I.P.'s could add that 2nd pair of eyes, letting potential wrongdoers know that the officer has a backup partner. Maybe a V.I.P. could be a retired officer, or a retired member of the military, or a security officer or other future officer "in training"?

Last month I read that a man was sentenced to 50 years in prison for his "3rd strike", the theft of $153 in tape recordings. What ever happened to the concept "Let the punishment fit the crime"? We must wonder how often such officer killings are committed in hopes of escaping the too often disproportionate 3rd Strike. Even stealing a pack of cigarettes can land you behind bars for 25 years to life.

Too many people do not earn a living wage, including health care benefits, but the rich get richer, hence the gap keeps widening. Therein lies much of our crime problem.

The idea of Go Figure is to arrive at the figures given at the bottom and right-hand columns of the diagram by following the arithmetic signs in the order they are given (that is, from left to right and top to bottom). Use only the numbers below the diagram to complete its blank squares and use each of the nine numbers only once.

"The Grudge 2"

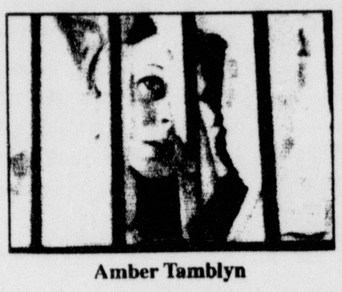

Running time: 95 minutes
MPAA rating: PG-13

There's nothing really scary about "The Grudge" movies. They're not particularly great films, either — and yet, I do enjoy them somewhat. I think the reason is that I'm always wondering when and where that Creepy Kid With the Big Eyes Who Makes the Kitty-Cat Sounds will pop up next. I really really really like the Creepy Kid.

The film stars Amber Tamblyn as Aubrey, the sister of Sarah Michelle Gellar's character (the lead in the first film, and who makes a cameo in this sequel). Aubrey is sent to Japan to find out what happened to her sister. It seems that after the events of the first film, Sarah Michelle Gellar's character was placed in the looney bin of a Tokyo hospital.

Aubrey also meets a Japanese journalist investigating the mysterious events surrounding the house where Gellar lived. It has been at the center of several grisly murders — and, of course, we the audience know that the house is haunted by Creepy Kid and his Croaking Mom.

What may confuse the audience is that "The Grudge 2" weaves three different story lines — and three different time frames. Events are shown out of sequence, so it's tough to know what's going on until you've seen the whole movie and had a chance to take everything in. I think if director Takashi Shimizu had done a better job of cluing us in about When Things Were Happening, this movie would've been better received.

If you liked the first film, then you'll definitely enjoy the sequel. If you haven't, "The Grudge 2" might be a little confusing.

Q. I am totally hooked on ABC's "Dancing With the Stars," and was pleasantly surprised to see how well Mario Lopez is doing. Then I got to wondering what his former Bayside classmate (Zack Morris, "Saved By the Bell") Mark-Paul Gosselaar was doing. — A Reader, via e-mail

A. Since graduating from Bayside High, Gosselaar has moved on to prime-time success, most notably with "NYPD Blue" from 2001-05 and the critically acclaimed "Commander in Chief" in 2006. He most recently starred with Lara Flynn Boyle and Colin Ferguson in Lifetime Television's "The House Next Door," which centers on an evil house that preys on the weaknesses of those around it.

Q. I read that Sarah Jessica Parker was considered for Teri Hatcher's role on "Desperate Housewives." Is that true? — H.F.W., Decatur, Ala.

A. I did read where SJP credits "Sex and the City" with giving television executives the notion that a program all about women could be a hit. She said, "I think HBO did a really clever thing, creating this standing date on Sunday nights at 9. I think that's really a lot what this (the success of "Housewives") is about."

Sela Ward, however, has gone on the record as claiming to have turned down the role of Susan Mayer. Sela says: "I was sent the script. It was the Teri Hatcher role. I just couldn't sign a six-year contract. I had just finished 'Once and Again,' and my mother had died. It was a very difficult time."

Q. How many times has author Jackie Collins been married? — Anon.

A. Younger sister to actress Joan Collins, novelist Jackie has been married only twice. (Joan, by contrast, is on husband No. 5!) In 1955, she married Wallace Austin, with whom she had a daughter, Tracy, but the marriage fell apart due to his drug addiction. In 1966, she married Oscar Lerman and stayed married to him until his death from cancer in 1992. A few years later, she became engaged to Los Angeles businessman Frank Calcagnini; however, he succumbed to cancer in 1998 before they could marry.

Q. I really enjoyed watching the "Celebrity Duets" series that ran on the Fox network. Did the celebrity guests receive any compensation for their work on the show? I would think that with all the time and work they put into it, they would get something out of it. — Norma J., Tupelo, Miss.

A. They certainly do get something out of it: It's called "exposure." While some of the participants' stars are on the rise (Hal Sparks, Jai Rodriguez), other stars used this as an opportunity to jump-start their career. Since "Xena, Warrior Princess," we hadn't heard hide nor hair from Lucy Lawless. And Alfonso Ribeiro was slowly slipping into Carlton purgatory until the world discovered he has quite a set of pipes in him. While I'm sure they all received "scale" for their appearances, you can't put a price tag on the worth of all the exposure.

Jill Jackson's HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD ... Awards. Awards. Awards. Seems like everybody out this way is getting something for something. George Clooney has been honored at least three times just recently, and talk is still about how gorgeous Julia Roberts looked as a blonde when she made a presentation to George. Her hair was long, long, straight, straight and very, very blonde. ... Bruce Willis got a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame. I'm not downgrading Bruce, but these aren't too hard to come by if you're famous and put up $3,000. ... And come April, Diane Keaton will be honored for her "Body of Work" by the Film Society of Lincoln Center at its annual gala. ... And we are definitely in the push for Oscar, although at this writing there's not too much to push.

Old-timers surfacing in the news. Phyllis Diller, Jayne Meadows and Florence Henderson accepted a $1 million check from the Bob Hope Foundation for the Television Foundation. All looking just great, and having a ball. ... Jack Palance held an auction and sold off all his memorabilia. ... And of course you remember Mr. T, with those muscles and all that gold jewelry. He has surfaced lately, and wouldn't it be fun if he bumped into Lindsay and Paris on Sunset Boulevard? ... Dick Van Patten and his son Jimmy donned chef's regalia and served food to doggies at "Dine With Your Doggie Day," the proceeds going to animal shelters around the country. There was also a pet costume prize, which added to the fun.

Diane Keaton

Aside to Laura H. of Omaha, Neb.: Yes, at this writing Zsa Zsa Gabor is still with us. She's recuperating from a stroke at her home in Bel-Air, a lovely suburb of L.A. Now, let's see if I can answer the rest of your question. Zsa Zsa was once married to Conrad Hilton. They had one daughter, named Franceska. Before he was married to Zsa Zsa, Conrad was married and had several sons. One of those married and had Paris, so I guess that would make Zsa Zsa "stepgrandma-in-law" to Paris. As to whether they ever get together, or if Paris and Franceska ever do the same, I cannot tell you. Your guess is as good as mine.

"French Women for All Seasons" by Mireille Guiliano (Knopf) is one of the most delightful books I've ever read. The author tells us about how French women eat, stay healthy, have love lives and etc., gives us delicious and delightful recipes, talks about wine and how healthful it is (thank goodness), how to decant, pour, taste, swirl and enjoy. When you finish you will say, "Wasn't that fun," then you will keep the book close so you can start trying some of the recipes. Lala-land readers are lapping this one up.

BITS 'N' PIECES: Los Angeles Mayor Antonio Villaraigosa (I'm just learning how to spell his name) could well "go into pictures" when his term is up. He is quite photogenic, and LOVES the camera. ... Nicole Kidman chalks up another experience: touring Kosovo as a United Nations Goodwill Ambassador. ... Rumors rampant about a rift in the Pitt-Jolie household. Again. By the time you read this, things will possibly have changed five or six times. ... Ryan Phillippe, starring in "Flags of Our Fathers" and husband to Reese Witherspoon, is forming his own production company

Under the Rainbow: An Intimate Memoir of Judy Garland, Rock Hudson and My Life in Old Hollywood
by John Carlyle
(Carroll & Graf, $26.95)
Reviewed by Larry Cox

John Carlyle was born Carlyle Fairfax Posey in Baltimore in 1931. The son of fairly well-to-do parents, he was attracted to celebrities even as a child. He wrote fan letters to several motion-picture stars, including Joan Fontaine, and fantasized about becoming an actor and living the good life in Hollywood.

He took his first step toward that goal when he ditched his name and moved into a small apartment in New York City. In 1954, he met Henry Willson, the idol-making agent who had made household names of dozens of celebrities, including Rock Hudson, Tab Hunter and Rory Calhoun.

Carlyle was cast in the blockbuster Judy Garland vehicle "A Star Is Born," and although his work ended up on the cutting-room floor, he managed to strike up an enduring friendship with Garland. For the last 10 years of her life, he was her constant companion.

Published after Carlyle's death, "Under the Rainbow" is a gossipy book that takes readers on a behind-the-scenes tour of Hollywood during the 1950s, with all of its glitz, glamour and scandals. Mostly though, it tells the story of his rocky but beloved friendship with Garland, who turned to him for both financial and emotional support.

Although Carlyle acted in dozens of plays, movies and TV roles, he never quite achieved the stardom he sought. Even so, he rubbed elbows with colorful people, had a good time and lived life to the fullest. For example, Hedy Lamar attempted to seduce him, he danced with Fred Astaire, was granted a private audition with Mae West and survived Dorothy Parker as his next-door neighbor in West Hollywood. All that has to count for something.

Fave Foods OF THE FAMOUS
by Steven Austin

American Pride Films Group

Namrata Singh Gujral

Stunning Indian-born actress Namrata Singh Gujral stars in the romantic comedy "Americanizing Shelley," an American Pride Films Group movie due for release in early 2007. You know her from roles on TV shows including "Passions," "Family Law," "Dragnet" and "The Agency," as well as other prime-time productions. Namrata is a 1998 graduate of the University of West Florida, and moved to Hollywood in 2001. Her busy schedule includes work on stage, as well as roles in a variety of TV commercials. "Americanizing Shelley" also stars Beau Bridges, Morgan Brittany, Shaheen Kahn and Wil Wheaton. For more information: www.americanizingshelleythemovie.com.

What are considered the "apple pie, ice cream and hot dogs" of India?

"Pav bhaji is a bread, curry and vegetable mix. Gulab jamun is a dessert flavored with cardamom seeds and rosewater or saffron seeds. And rasmalai is another sweet dessert."

A movie set story:

"I shot the role of Renu Mathur in 'Kaante,' a huge Bollywood blockbuster with Amitabh Bachan. It was a remake of Quentin Tarantino's 'Reservoir Dogs' in Hindi. The entire cast was flown in from India. So, for the first time on any set, we had two catering services at any given time. It was a joy to walk out and order 'masala chai' instead of my regular Earl Grey tea with a drop of milk."

You will be starring in the upcoming sci-fi movie "Still." Any foods that scare you?

"I eat just about everything. Escargot is an all-time fave. However, I will say I draw the line at pig's feet!"

Favorite candy/treats to enjoy at the movie theater.

"Good old buttered popcorn and Raisinettes."

Have you ever had to lose or gain weight for a role?

"I basically didn't eat for a week before my bikini scene in 'Americanizing Shelley.' Unfortunately, in the industry I am in, anything over size zero is considered big. So yes, I am on a constant yo-yo diet, depending on what I'm shooting or what event I have to attend."

NAMRATA'S FAT-FREE CHICKEN CURRY
(Courtesy of American Pride Films Group)

- 4 chicken breasts, 4 chicken thighs, skinned
- PAM cooking spray
- 1 large onion, sliced
- 1 tablespoon minced garlic
- 3 tablespoons garam masala (a mixed spice available at any Indian market)
- 1 tablespoon ground coriander
- Salt and red pepper to taste
- 2 cans tomato sauce
- 3 cups water
- 1 bunch cilantro

Wash the chicken thoroughly and set aside to dry. Spray a generous amount of cooking spray in a large, non-stick skillet.

Under medium heat, add onions, toss and saute until medium brown. Add garlic and mix for about 30 seconds. Add chicken. Turn burner to high. Saute chicken to medium brown. Add garam masala, coriander, salt and red pepper. Mix well and add the tomato sauce. Saute for another minute or so, and add 3 cups of water. Let boil, then reduce to low heat. Cover and let simmer until sauce is thick enough for your taste. Add more water and garam masala for a thinner sauce (one tablespoon garam masala for every one cup water).

Sprinkle with cilantro leaves and serve with steamed rice.

(Namrata says, "If you're real brave, try a fresh, green jalapeno to the side. Fast, yummy and oh so good!")

Giving Back, With Grace

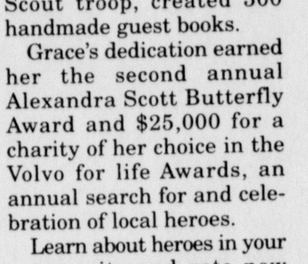

(NAPS)—Two years ago, 10-year-old Grace Farnan's grandmother passed away peacefully while in the loving care of the Hospice of the North Shore (HNS) in Danvers, Mass. To show her gratitude to the hospice and the people who lovingly cared for her grandmother in her final days, Grace became the youngest ever volunteer at HNS.

Grace tirelessly dedicated herself to HNS, starting programs to collect picture frames and create guest books for clients to keep their nearest and dearest close by. To date, Grace has collected more than 225 picture frames and, with the help of her Girl Scout troop, created 500 handmade guest books.

Grace's dedication earned her the second annual Alexandra Scott Butterfly Award and $25,000 for a charity of her choice in the Volvo for life Awards, an annual search for and celebration of local heroes.

Learn about heroes in your community and vote now through Feb. 4, 2007 for your favorite at www.volvofor lifeawards.com. Judges will honor one child or teenager with a Butterfly Award and nine finalists in the 5th Anniversary Volvo for life Awards. Three winners receive a $50,000 charitable contribution from Volvo, remaining finalists receive $25,000. One overall winner receives a new Volvo for the rest of his or her life.

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF
Ethel Freida Barton
CASE NUMBER PB06-170

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of Loretta Gutierrez:

A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by Guy G. Gibson, Jr., in the Superior Court of California, County of Yolo.

THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that Guy G. Gibson, Jr., be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

THE PETITION requests the decedent's will and codicils, if any, be admitted to probate. The will and any codicils are available for examination in the file kept by the court.

THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A HEARING on the petition will be held on Dec. 5, 2006, at 8:30 a.m. in Dept. 11, Superior Court of California, County of Yolo, 812 Court St., Woodland, CA 95695.

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the deceased, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within four months from the date of first issuance of letters as provided in Probate Code section 9100. The time for filing claims will not expire before four months from the hearing date noticed above.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a "Request for Special Notice" (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A "Request for Special Notice" form is available from the court clerk.

INVESTOR LOAN #: FILE: D2006-1053 CKE NOTICE OF DEFAULT AND ELECTION TO SELL UNDER DEED OF TRUST IMPORTANT NOTICE: IF YOUR PROPERTY IS IN FORECLOSURE BECAUSE YOU ARE BEHIND IN YOUR PAYMENTS, IT MAY BE SOLD WITHOUT ANY COURT ACTION, and you may have the legal right to bring your account in good standing by paying all of your past due payments plus permitted costs and expenses within the time permitted by law for reinstatement of your account, which is normally five business days prior to the date set for the sale of your property. No sale date may be set until three months from the date this notice of default may be recorded (which date of recordation appears on this notice). This amount is $2,479,575.95 as of 10/11/2006 and will increase until your account becomes current. If you fail to make future payments on the loan, pay taxes on the property, provide insurance on the property, or pay other obligations as required in the note and deed of trust or mortgage, the beneficiary or mortgagee may insist that you do so in order to reinstate your account in good standing. Upon your written request, the beneficiary or mortgagee will give you a written itemization of the entire amount you must pay. You may not have to pay the entire unpaid portion of your account, even though full payment was demanded, but you must pay all amounts in default at the time payment is made. However, you and your beneficiary or mortgagee may mutually agree in writing prior to the time the notice of sale is posted (which may not be earlier than the end of the three-month period stated above) to, among other things, (1) provide additional time in which to cure the default by transfer of the property or otherwise; or (2) establish a schedule of payments in order to cure your default; or both (1) and (2). Following the expiration of the time period referred to in the first paragraph of this notice, unless the obligation being foreclosed upon or a separate written agreement between you and your creditor permits a longer period, you have only the legal right to stop the sale of your property by paying the entire amount demanded by your creditor. Please Help:
Witnesses Sought

On Saturday, September 23, 2006, at approximately 3:00 p.m., I was involved in an accident at the intersection of Jefferson Boulevard and Lake Washington.

I was driving a dark green Honda, heading west across Jefferson when I was broadsided by a Dodge Ram truck.

A witness -- the driver of a car behind me -- paused after the wreck and said, "You know you had the green, don't you?" I said "yes," but was too shook up to get the witness's phone number.

I am asking that this witness, or anyone who saw the accident please call me. I would be very grateful. Call me, Connie, or Buzz Jones, PIP Printing, (916) 371-7277, 371-3304, or email buzzconn@pacbell.net
